Representatives of the Balkans will therefore directly on the frontier. The Bulgarian minister-in-chief, the armistice came to an end as soon as it was apparent that there is no possibility of a mutually satisfactory arrangement. Hostilities will then be resumed four days afterward. Bulgarians have now decided that they have been misled in regard to the conserving in the beleaguered Turkish fortress of Adrianople. They have consequently decided to change in their policy.

Weeks ago they were in the expectation of the fall of the fortress expected hourly but a reversal of war held at Mustina under the presidency of Ferdinand came to the commander at Shukri Pasha, the commander at Adrianople, able to economize the sum of the fortress to such an extent that the garrison would be able to hold out for several months.

WILL COMPLY WITH PRESIDENT'S WISHES

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 20.—When President-elect Wilson arrived at the state house today he found the following telegram, sent last Friday by William Corcoran Eustis, chairman of the inauguration committee:

VARIATION IN VALUES

Placed Upon Husbands by Women Who Have Lost Them.

EARNING CAPACITY OF THE DECEASED

Seems to be Basis Upon Which Values Are Computed.

New York, Jan. 20.—Analysis of the numerous suits which widows have brought for damages because of the loss of their husbands in the Titanic disaster brought to light today the striking differences in the monetary values that women placed on their husbands. The suits ranged from $25,000 to $1,000,000, the record high figure being that sued for by Mrs. Henry B. Harris, widow of the prominent theatrical manager. An admiralty lawyer declared today that the differences in damages sought was due chiefly to the various earning capacities of the husbands, taking into consideration also the age.

COMMISSION FIXES CAUSE OF WRECK.

Washington, Jan. 20.—An unlighted switch lamp and the "inexperience" and "lack of alertness" of a freight crew are assigned by the interstate commerce commission as the cause of the accident on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway at Indianapolis, Ind., on November 13, resulting in the death of 15 persons and the injury of 11.

WHAT COUNTS IN THE GAME

Is a Winning Aggregation of People to Bat the Ball.

FRANK CHANCE WHO WAS A BIG WINNER

As Playing Manager Will Have to Prove New Abilities.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—"Frank Chance was successful as a playing manager; I am not prepared to say that he will prove a wizard as a bench manager," says Charles W. Murphy, president of the National league baseball club, of Chicago, in a signed statement made public here today.

Continuing, Murphy declares that the popularity or unpopularity of a manager or owner does not figure in the success of a club; it is a winning aggregation that counts with followers of the game.

The local owner intimates that his club has been re-organized because some of the players were going stale with age.

DIED FROM EFFECTS OF BULLET WOUND.

Haverhill, Mass., Jan. 20.—Joseph Harris, a shoe worker, died today from a bullet wound received during a strike disturbance here last night. Charles Eaton, who had refused to join the shoe workers' strike, is under arrest on a charge of manslaughter. It is alleged that Eaton, angered by the taunts and threats of a crowd of strikers who had been following him, fired his revolver at them; the bullet striking Harris in the abdomen.

OPINION DIFFERED WITH EMPEROR.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—Emil Paur, formerly director of the Pittsburgh orchestra suddenly resigned today as conductor of the royal opera at Berlin. His action, according to press reports, was due to differences of opinion with Emperor William. Paur took the place just a year ago.

OYSTER BEDS ARE BADLY DAMAGED.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 20.—Damage which may reach several hundred thousand dollars was done to oyster beds in Long Island sound by the recent high gales, and more particularly by the extremely low tide of January 3. UTES WILL NOT GIVE UP CHIEF BIG RABBIT.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Measures of pacification instead of force are to be tried first on the band of Ute Indians holding a posse at bay eighteen miles from Cortez, Colo., and refusing to give up Big Rabbit, one of their tribesmen charged with the murder of a sheep herder.

MEETING OF TEMPERANCE COMMITTEES

Will Have Their First Session at State House Tonight.

BIG CROWD FROM ALL OVER STATE

Have Poured Into Columbus On Every Train During the Day.

FIRST LIQUOR LICENSE HEARING

Before the Committees Will Be the Business of the Meeting.

Protest is Filed Against Limiting of Attendance at Hearings.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—Scores of persons from every section of the state today arrived in the capital to be present at the first hearing tonight before the joint temperance committees of the legislature on the proposed liquor license codes submitted by the "wet" and "dry's."

Dry leaders today discussed the probability of holding a mass meeting tonight just previous to the time of meeting of the committee in the rotunda of the state house to protest against the limiting of the attendance at the hearings.

Immediate adjournment will be taken by the legislature this evening when it reconvenes at 5 o'clock, that preparations may be complete for the first liquor license hearing.

Governor Cox, Secretary of State Graves, House Clerk John B. Cassidy and Assistant Secretary of State J. H. Secrest, will hold a meeting late today to discuss the provisions of the proposed primary election law which will do away with the state conventions of the various political parties.

Senator Carl Friebohn, of Cleveland, has announced that he will introduce a bill in the senate to provide that election day be made a half holiday, and that the polls all over the state remain open from 5:30 a. m. until the same hour in the evening. In some of the rural counties, the polls now remain open until 6 p. m.

CLARENCE DARROW IS ON TRIAL AGAIN.

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 20.—Clarence S. Darrow was placed on trial today for the second time on a charge of having attempted to corrupt a juror in the McNamara case. After a trial lasting nearly all summer, Darrow was acquitted of having bribed George N. Lockwood, a salesman called in the trial of James B. McNamara, now serving a life sentence at San Quentin prison, charged with blowing up the Los Angeles Times building. Today the lawyer was put on trial on the same case.

NEW SENATORS WERE SWORN IN TODAY.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Colorado now has two United States senators for the first time since the death of Senator Charles J. Hughes, in 1911. Former Governor Charles S. Thomas was today sworn in as senator from that state to fill the unexpired term. His credentials were presented by Senator Guggenheim.

HIGH RECORD FOR LONDON REALTY.

New York, Jan. 20.—A high record price for real estate in London was set by the sale of ground near the new mail archway at Charing Cross, at $127 a square foot, or about $5,500,000 an acre was reported in real estate circles today.

SUCCESSOR TO BURTON

Will Be Staunch Democrat Unless Political Earthquake Occurs.

PARTY'S CHOICE WILL BE BY PRIMARIES

Provided the Oregon Plan is Not Applied in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—While it still is two years in the future and the first slice of the democratic federal pie is yet to be cut, there was considerable speculation today among returning legislators and politicians generally concerning the succession to Senator Theodore Burton.

The choice of a nominee by each party must be made at preferential primaries and it is generally understood that Senator Burton will seek another term. His friends are said to be of the opinion that the republicans have a fair chance of capturing the next legislature notwithstanding the present house is overwhelmingly democratic and the next senate will contain a large number of holdover democratic senators.

Democratic leaders who were in the city today indicated their belief that with the large nucleus they will start with in the senate they are definitely assured of control of the next legislature and consequently of the senatorial nomination on the democratic side.

In this connection it is necessary, however, to note that the next senator, will probably be elected under the Oregon plan by direct vote of the people.

The word from Dayton that State Chairman Edward W. Hanley is contemplating the senatorship nomination caused many politicians to "sit up and take notice." It was conceded that Mr. Hanley will be a factor to be reckoned with and the some of the enthusiastic friends of Governor James M. Cox who also have been in the city today declared that "political eventualities" might result so that the present governor might be willing to accept the senatorial term. No claim was made that the governor has senatorial aspirations or that mention of his name in a gossip way had any sort of foundation or authorization, however.

The first openly announced candidate for the democratic preferential nomination is Congressman Timothy T. Ansberry of Defiance, the Ohio member of the house ways and means committee at Washington. Mr. Ansberry's friends are actively at work in his behalf.

The names of Mayor Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, Mayor Henry T. Hunt, of Cincinnati and Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo were also current in the comment of political circles.

AN AGED TRAPPER TAKES HIS LIFE

Hunter, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Not until after the funeral at Haines Falls yesterday, did the residents of this Catskill section learn that a modern Rip Van Winkle, in the person of Gilbert Greene, an aged trapper, had taken his own life under unusual circumstances. "Old Gibe's" body was found Friday in a cave in the woods in a coffin which he built himself out of rough timber. Beside him were his faithful dog, his gun and a bottle which had contained poison.

FIRST REPRIEVE BY NEW GOVERNOR.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—What may be the first reprieve granted by Governor James M. Cox is that of Milton Smith, of Gallia county, found guilty of first degree murder last June. The date for his execution is February 7 and the pardon board will not meet to consider application for commutation of sentence before that time.

CHICAGO COVERED WITH SNOW MANTLE.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—A heavy snow storm greatly impeded traffic in this city today. With trolley wires and third rails coated with snow and street cars barely more than crawled over their routes, and thousands of persons were late in reporting at their various tasks. Telegraph wires were affected, although not demoralized.

DANGER THAT DIKES MAY WASH AWAY.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 20.—With the Ohio river today standing at 46.7 feet, the same as last night, Evansville and the lower valley settled down to an endurance test with the water. It is believed now that the river will not begin to recede before the end of the week. The city authorities decided today to decline liberal offers of private assistance and undertake all relief work with the city's funds.

The greatest danger from the flood now is at Shawneetown, Ill., 75 miles below here. The city is protected by a high levee and now lies 15 feet below the water's level. Boy scouts patrol the levee in the day time, relieving their fathers, who guard the big dike at night. The Shawneetown levee broke in 1898 with a loss of 35 lives.

INCREASE WAGES GRANTED THE MEN.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 20.—A substantial increase in wages has been granted the blacksmiths, machinists, boiler-makers and their helpers by the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company, announcement being made here today. About 4,000 workers between Albany and this city will benefit.

ATTENDANT IS ARRESTED

Charged With Manslaughter in Connection With Death of Barnhart.

CORONER BENKERT WILL INVESTIGATE.

Result Will Be a Sweeping Inspection of the Institution.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—A charge of manslaughter probably will be placed against Oral Best, the 22-year old attendant at the Columbus state hospital who is under arrest in connection with the killing yesterday of John Barnhart, aged 52, a patient.

Following close upon the heels of the recent investigation of cruelty against officials of the Boys' industrial school at Lancaster, the Barnhart case has created a sensation in administration institution circles.

The Columbus police have begun a thorough examination of the case and tomorrow Coroner Benkert will begin an examination. The charge of manslaughter probably will be filed against Best tomorrow. Because of the serious nature of the charge, it is probable that another and a more sweeping investigation of the case will be made by the state board of administration, which is in charge of all state institutions.

Best, the attendant, came from Adams county, while his alleged victim was a former resident of Madison county. Best has been charged with other cruelties, according to statements of the hospital authorities.

JEWISH COUNCIL IN SESSION TODAY.

Cincinnati, Jan. 20.—Hundreds of prominent Jews representing more than 200 of the principal Jewish organizations of the United States were present at the opening of the biennial council of the American Hebrew Congregations here today. The council will continue until Thursday, and many subjects of interest will be discussed. On Thursday a new group of buildings of the Hebrew Union College in this city will be dedicated.

RESOLUTION PRESENTED BY KENNEDY

To Construct a New State Office Building in Columbus.

AMOUNT PAID BY STATE FOR RENTAL

Amounts Annually to Over Fifty Thousand Dollars Says Fullington.

SITE FOR BUILDING HAS BEEN CHOSEN.

Will Be Located on Ground Just East of State House.

Would Relieve Congestion That Now Prevails in Capitol.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—Providing that Governor Cox appoint a commission of three members to find a site in this city for the erection of a new state office building, a resolution will be introduced in the house of representatives late today by Representative Ray Kennedy, of Lima.

Representative Kennedy announced his proposed resolution following a long consultation he had with Governor Cox today. The tentative plan is for the state to acquire the block just east of the state house and build a large office building and an executive mansion for the governor of the property.

According to the annual report of State Auditor E. M. Fullington, the state of Ohio is paying more than $50,000 annually for the rent of offices outside of the state house. The tentative site for the new state buildings is now occupied by Trinity Episcopal church, the Columbus Y. M. C. A. and many rooming and boarding houses.

A bill providing for the licensing and examining of oculists will be introduced by Representative J. T. Carroll, of Franklin county. A similar bill was introduced in the last legislature by Representative Thomas A. Dean, of Fremont.

Representative Carroll also announced that he will introduce a resolution similar to the recent resolution passed by congress giving a vote of thanks to the British parliament for the passage of the Irish home rule bill.

Senator Haas, of Delaware county, is preparing a bill which he will introduce in the legislature to curb further the activities of the so-called loan sharks in the state. The measure will amend certain sections of the law governing loan offices and will provide for an annual inspection of such offices to be made by the state superintendent of building and loan associations.

Greek letter fraternities and sororities would be abolished in the Universities and colleges of Ohio which receive appropriations from the state, if the bill which Representative George M. Hoaglin, of Paulding county will introduce in the legislature either today or tomorrow becomes a law.

The bill also provides stricter restrictions in the present anti-high school fraternity law, and would be an amendment to that law.

In an address before the Columbus board of education, President W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State University, recently declared that under the present anti-fraternity high school law, such fraternities could not be controlled and restricted properly. Under the proposed new law, boards of education will have a means of punishing violators.

work. The Sunday school

Rev. Franklin Stiles, of the First Baptist church, and his able assistant, Miss Clara Black, are conducting a series of revival services at the South Side Baptist church, which
at the present time is without a pastor. Rev. Mr. Stiles, of the First Baptist, is caring for the spiritual needs of this church. Although they met with such disagreeable weather
last week, the interest was high and the attendance good. Services will be held every evening this week,
save Saturday.

The sermons delivered by Rev.
Mr. Stiles, are filled with such interest and contain such Bible truths,
that no one can afford to miss attendance. In his sermons, both in his own church and at the South Side Baptist, Rev. Mr. Stiles has long since placed himself among the foremost ministers of the city by a manifestation of his talents and power.

Epworth Methodist church, which is also the scene of a special revival,
drew two good audiences yesterday.
The work is in charge of the pastor,
Rev. M. C. Howley, who came to this pastorate with the close of the recent conference at Kepton.
At Epworth, the music is also a feature of the services. The newly organized orchestra of seven pieces
leads the music and two pianos are included in the list of instruments.
A short song service opened the evening meeting last night.

Services will be held every evening
this week, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.
The church is located on Bellefontaine avenue.

Sunday was a big day at Grace Methodist Episcopal church, where for some weeks revival services have been in progress. The auditorium of the church, with the various rooms adjoining, which were opened to the public last night, were unable to accommodate the large audience which attended. A. C. Bippus of Toledo, was in charge of the music,
which was a special feature.

Rev. H. J. Jewett, the pastor, delivered two splendid sermons, evangelistic in their nature. A good audience was present.

church on the south side and the meetings will continue throughout the week, with the exception of Saturday evening.

While Mr. Bippus returned to his home in Toledo today, he will return to lead the song service at Grace church next Sunday. During the week the chorus choir will furnish special music for the services.
The pastor will deliver short sermons and there will be opportunity for prayer and consecration services.

During the past week the congregation was favored by an address by
of the Rev.

William Sunday during his stay in Toledo, and whose words did much to add to the attractiveness of the service. He is president of the Personal Workers' league of the Clark street Methodist church in Toledo, one of the prominent church
organizations of the city and where Rev. and Mrs. Jewett were formerly located.

Mr. R. F. Reynolds, a salesman
and a member of the Gideons, a band of Christian traveling men, was also present at one of the meetings during the week and sang in a manner,
pleasing to the large congregation.
Rev. and Mrs. Jewett and the members of Grace church will make all who attend, feel very welcome to the services of the church.

At the close of the Sunday morning service at St. Paul's Lutheran church, the newly-elected officers were installed. Wilbur Fluke as trustee of the church, Charles F.
Stolzenbach, A. G. Lutz and Gordon
G. Graves, as deacons, being the new men to take their places.

Sunday also marked the date of the publication of the Heidelberg
catechism and special services were held in the German Evangelical Reformed church, beginning at 10:15
a. m. Rev. (Dr.) H. C. Schluter,
the pastor was in charge.

Rev. R. S. Stevenson of Bellefontaine, filled the Olivet Presbyterian pulpit Sunday morning and evening.
At the present time, Olivet is without a regular pastor.

FELTNER BOUND OVER TO COURT.

Alleged Bogus Check Worker Committed to County Jail in Default of Bond.

C. R. Feltner, alleged check forger
arrested by the police last evening,
was arraigned before Mayor Shook
this afternoon on an affidavit charging him with forgery. He waived the preliminary examination, and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 bond. Being unable to furnish the necessary recognizance,
he was committed to the county jail.
The affidavit against Feltner was signed by Edward Graft, saloonist, although Feltner is accused of a number of forgeries in addition to the one charged in the affidavit. The police are busy collecting evidence against him, which will be turned over to the public prosecutor.

GEO JAMESON PASSED AWAY

Old Lima Resident Died at His Late Home in Ada, Ohio.

WAS PROMINENT IN EARLY LIMA LIFE.

Funeral Services Will Be Held in Ada, Burial
in Woodlawn.

Saturday afternoon about three
thirty at his home in Ada, Ohio, George Jameson passed away. He was one of the pioneers of the city
of Lima, and was in the early days
interested in practically all the progressive movements that were instituted.

Mr. Jameson, in conjunction with Mr. B. C. Faurst, Mr. S. A. Baxter, and others, devoted a great deal of his time to the assistance of the town
in its early growth, and when some years ago he saw fit to remove from here, his loss was greatly and widely felt.

Mr. George Jameson was born in Wayne county, in the eastern part of the state of Ohio, and there lived with his parents throughout the greater part of his boyhood and youth. Spending the most of his time on the farm with his parents,
he at different intervals devoted some time to teaching and studying. In the year 1857 Mr. Jameson was married to Miss Mary E. McClure, and for four years they continued to remain in Wayne county. Then they went to Ann Arbor, where Mr. Jameson took a course in the law school.

After the completion of this course
Mr. Jameson and his wife came to Lima to live, and he opened up a law office in the Langan block. Not long after this he purchased what was later well known as the Baxter corner, just east of Jameson avenue, between Market and High street. It was through his efforts that the avenue was opened up through this land and a result it was named Jameson avenue. After this he was largely interested in many of the big real estate deals that were put through in this city, and working constantly to the front, became known as one of the most prominent citizens of the town. On the west end property which he owned he built the magnificent large house
on the corner of Market and Jameson which later Dr. Baxter owned, and where his widow still resides. Mr.
Jameson sold this in 1883.

After leaving Lima Mr. Jameson went to north Washington, where he had purchased a large farm, and
there he went in for real agriculture.
He lived there for sixteen years. It was at the end of the residence there that his wife died. She was brought to Lima and was interred in the Woodlawn cemetery. Then Mr.

Jameson purchased a farm near Ada,
Ohio. Here he lived for a number of years, finally giving up the farming idea and located in the town,
conducting a law practice.

Mr. Jameson was a great reader,
and throughout his life was devoted to books and literature. He compiled one book, which he called "In Memoriam," in memory of his wife
and dedicated to his only son.

Mr. Jameson is survived by his son, Charles, and three grandsons, Cloyd Alton, Charles Sinclair, and George Edwin Jameson. The funeral services are to be held tomorrow morning at ten thirty o'clock at the First Presbyterian church in Ada.
The cortege will then come to Lima,
and the remains will be laid to rest
in Woodlawn cemetery, beside those of the loving wife who preceded him
some thirteen years.

Throughout his life Mr. Jameson was a conscientious member and a hard worker in the Presbyterian church, and during his life in Lima was closely identified with all that pertained to the welfare of Market street church.

PRICE OF PAIR OF TROUSERS

Led to Trouble in Loewenstein's Store Saturday, and Two Assault Cases in Local Courts.

Leon Loewenstein, proprietor of a clothing store on the southeastern side of the public square, waived
the preliminary examination before Mayor Shook this morning on a charge of assault, and went over to the grand jury. He furnished bond for his release.

The charge against the well known merchant was preferred by
Mrs. Marian Harrington, 728 south
Metz street, who claims that Loewenstein assaulted her son, Fred Harrington, an Erie railroad tele-grapher, in the former's store Saturday afternoon.
Loewenstein filed a counter charge
against young Harrington in Squire Holmes' court Saturday afternoon,
charging him with assault. He exhibited a badly bruised arm and a swollen cheek to substantiate the charge that Harrington was the aggressor.

Harrington was arraigned before Justice Holmes this morning, pleaded not guilty, and his case was set for hearing next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. The case will be bitterly contested, as a number of witnesses will be subpoenaed on each side.
Harrington and his mother claimed that the assault was unprovoked,
while Loewenstein has an entirely different version of the affair. The trouble started when Harrington objected to paying the price asked for a pair of trousers.

FARMERS ARE INTERESTED

In the Discussions on Agricultural Schedule Now Before Committee.

REDUCTIONS MADE ON MANY ARTICLES.

Reaching in Aggregate to Almost Half Billion of Dollars.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The agricultural schedule of the tariff came up today before the house ways and means committee. It is the portion of the Payne-Aldrich law which appeals most to farmers. Many witnesses were on the program.

Some of the provisions of the schedule now in effect represent reductions from the Dingley tariff law.

Representative Payne, who was chairman of the committee when the present tariff was started on its path through congress and who is now a ranking republican on the committee, estimated that the consumption value of articles on which the rates of duty were increased or decreased in the present law was:

Articles on which duties were decreased $483,430,637; articles on which duties were increased $4,380,482.

Democratic members of the committee stated today that there would be material reductions from the present law on many articles.

LIGHT DOCKET IN POLICE COURT.

Police Had Little to Do Saturday Night and Sunday, and There Were Few Offenders.

This morning's session of police court was unusually quiet for a Monday morning, only three offenders being arraigned before Mayor Shook, all for minor offenses. John Burns, Peter Crowley, and George Smith, charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty, and were fined $1 and costs each.

G. P. Davis, an automobile repair man arrested at the home of his father-in-law on south Jackson street, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, secured his release yesterday morning on $10 bond, which was declared forfeited when he failed to appear before the mayor this morning. Davis was arrested at the instance of his wife.

Bill Ryan, another plain drunk, also forfeited a $10 bond which was deposited for his release Saturday night.

John Crane, arrested for drunkenness Saturday night, is in a critical condition at the city prison, and could not be arraigned this morning. Crane is on the verge of delirium tremens, and it was necessary to summon a physician this morning to attend him. He will be arraigned as soon as he has sufficiently recovered to appear before the mayor for trial.

CRUELTY IN PERU WORSE THAN THAT FOUND ALONG THE KONGO

American Investigator Has Shocking Report of the Rubber Atrocities.

REMARKABLE stories of Peru were brought to this country recently by two expeditions which had gone on different missions into the fastnesses of the South American country. The heads of these expeditions were Stuart Fuller, formerly American consul at Göteborg, Sweden, who was detached to make an investigation of the alleged cruelties practiced upon the Indians in the Putumayo rubber district, and Professor Hiram Bingham of Yale, who searched for pre-Inca remains.

Both these gentlemen told of horrible conditions in the southern clime.

Mr. Fuller declined to tell the nature of his report, which he sent to Washington, but he said that the investigation revealed a greater barbarism in the treatment of the Peruvian Indians than that practiced in the Kongo.

Mr. Fuller intimated that the Monroe doctrine might be invoked in the Putumayo situation. He was unable to say what the procedure might be, as the United States never had faced a situation like it. In the case of the Kongo outrages this country was concerned because of the antislavery treaties.

District Along Amazon.

The Putumayo district is a remote region at the headwaters of the Amazon to the east of the Andes mountains, which separate it from Lima, Peru. The region can only be reached from that city by traveling north via Panama and thence to the mouth of the Amazon, continuing to Iquitos, the most important inland city of the entire section, and then still farther inland.

In 1890 the rubber possibilities of the region were first discovered, and the concession for collecting the sap was given by the Peruvian government to the Arana Bros. The district was inhabited by a harmless, peaceful race of Indians, who were employed in tapping the trees and collecting the milk.

A campaign of most wasteful exploitation of the rubber possibilities followed, in which the Indians were reduced to a state of slavery by the most shockingly barbaric methods. Results only were asked without regard to the future development of the rubber possibilities.

Not only men, but women and children, were expected to furnish their share of the supply or suffer the most horrible tortures.

In 1905 thirty-six Barbadian negroes, British subjects, were imported as deputies, and the cruelty increased.

About this time the rubber concession was sold to the Peruvian Amazon company, a British trading concern of good standing. It is not known whether it had any knowledge of the means employed to produce results, but the system continued.

Unbelievable Tortures.

The list of tortures and methods of cruelty used is too long for publication. Indians who could not or didn't produce rubber were suspended with their arms twisted and bound over their heads and their feet swinging while they were flogged. Two hundred lashes a day constituted no unusual flogging.

Pouring kerosene over the bodies of men and women and setting them afire was a pastime. Many were burned at the stake.

Professor Hiram Bingham, who had been on an exploring expedition for six months in Peru, searching for pre-Inca remains in the region of the Andes, returned, accompanied by Professor Herbert T. Gregory and Dr. George F. Eaton, both also of Yale. The expedition originally had eleven members, and all but two have now returned.

Professor Bingham, who looked as pale as a yellow fever immune, said that the interior of southern Peru was being desolated by a succession of plagues, including smallpox and typhus fever, and that the government was taking few steps to check the ravages of the scourges. Dr. Eaton was ill with camp fever, and Professor Gregory was also incapacitated from work for several weeks.

Professor Bingham brought back with him fifty human skulls of a pre-Inca period and many skeletons, as well as thirty cases of curiously wrought bronze tablets and pieces of pottery, and Dr. Eaton collected fifty cases of bones to be sent on later, and the fossilized skeleton of a prehistoric horse. Professor Bingham nearly lost his life on one occasion when his mules stampeded and the Indians forsook him. He was for two days and nights roaming about on the slopes of the snow clad mountain, Palco, with barely any food and the chance of being devoured by wild animals if he lay down and went to sleep.

Was Third Expedition.

This was Professor Bingham's third expedition to Peru, and its object, he said, was to intensify the work that had been left incomplete. This time he was able to devote considerable time to the examination of the remains of the 150 one story stone dwellings, temples and city walls of the ancient city of the Peruvian tribesmen, known as Machu Picchu, constructed of carved white stone, and $2,000 was expended in excavating parts of the ruins of the city which had become covered with heavy undergrowth.

At Machu Picchu were found the fossilized bones of prehistoric man, skulls and skeletons worn down to dust and hardly distinguishable from the gravel in which they were found. Professor Bingham has brought back with him several bronze tablets to see whether the quality and shape of them and the characters on them may lead to more being learned about the original inhabitants of this continent.

Opposition by the government of Peru was so continuous and so severe and unrelenting, Professor Bingham said, that it was improbable that the scientific work they had begun would be continued.

"We had great difficulty," the professor said, "in getting our cases of specimens out of the country and were delayed seven weeks by the tedious objections of the Peruvian government. At first the officials would not allow us to take anything at all; then they said that we could take half of what we had, then they permitted us to take what they did not want. At last they were persuaded to let us take all the bones and fossils which we had collected, but the device of the government was as insulting as it possibly could be."

New York, Jan. 4.—Dan Beard, artist and boy scout, on opening a package received by parcel post at his home, in Flushing, found the carcass of a sleek fat opossum ready for roasting.

The possum was a gift to Artist Beard from his friend, Ernest Thompson Seton, and was sent by Mr. Seton from his country place, "Windy Gourd," at Cos Cob, Conn. Mr. Beard intended holding a feast, to which a select number will be invited.

Gary, Ind., Dec. 30.—Parcel post troubles at the Gary postoffice began today with H. F. Parry, a brick dealer, sent two big wagonloads of heavy paving bricks to be mailed out the first thing Wednesday morning. There were 1,000 bricks, each wrapped separately. Their total weight was 6,000 pounds. The bricks are being mailed out as samples when the wagons arrived Postmaster John W. Call and Chief Clerk Joseph Tracey began to carry in the bricks, but they gave out after two hours' labor and other clerks had to be put at the job.

Harrington, Del., Jan. 3.—While solving for poultrymen the vexatious problem of how to hatch chickens in winter Josiah Hopkins, who lives near here, presented a new puzzle for postal officials to solve.

Pity the Poor Parcel Postman

Although Uncle Sam's nephews and nieces are fast becoming accustomed to the parcel post, the novelty of the new system has not worn off, as every mail man in the country can testify. The postmasters are convinced that Americans have a wonderful appreciation for the ridiculous, but the carriers, who are obliged to deliver the countless joke packages, are not so optimistic. One of the most striking facts about the new system is the infinite variety of articles sent out under the cheap rate. Horse collars, coal shovels, sofa cushions, lanterns, dress goods, eggs, game birds, barnyard fowl, custard pies, fishing rods, fire tongs—to list the packages is to name almost every conceivable article that weighs eleven pounds or less. As was anticipated, tourists in Mexico have attempted to mail horned loads to friends in the north, and in Florida every package brought into a postoffice is put to the sniffing test, for the tiny alligator is esteemed a choice souvenir by the winter resorters, who like to let the folks back home know something of the fauna the south.

BRITISH AMAZONS

Women Who Could Pull an Car With the Best of Men.

WON FAME ALL OVER EUROPE.

Ann Glanville and Her Champions Not Only Beat Their Own Countrymen, but Went to Havre and Outrowed Half a Dozen Crack French Crews.

In the boat races that have from time immemorial been rowed on the Hamoaze, the estuary of the Tamar and the Tavy that forms part of the harbor of Plymouth, the women of Saltash have often distinguished themselves. In "Around and About Saltash" P. E. B. Porter writes of Ann Glanville, whose amazonian feats of oarsmanship made her famous all over Europe:

"Some sixty or seventy years ago the crew of Saltash women was often seen not only on the Hamoaze, but wherever aquatic sports were held. It was not often that Ann and the crew that she stroked were beaten in a match—never by other women.

"They competed for prizes at Hull, Liverpool, Portsmouth and Dartmouth, and it must not be supposed that a crew of men ever yielded the palm out of masculine courtesy, for, as a matter of fact, the men did not at all relish being beaten by a 'parcel of females.'"

"In some of these contests Mrs. Harriet Screech, a daughter of Ann Glanville, who had fourteen children, rowed with her mother. As she was the youngest member of the crew she pulled bow oar, the least arduous post in the boat.

"Once this crew, rowing a match at Fleetwood in the presence of Queen Victoria, gave the men so sound a beating that her majesty asked to have Ann presented to her.

"However, the most famous event of Ann's life took place in 1850, when Captain Russell of H. M. S. Brunswick suggested to her that she and her crew should go to Havre to the regatta there and challenge the Frenchmen, a proposal to which she readily assented.

"When the Frenchmen heard of the challenge from les Anglaises de Saltash they shrugged their shoulders, for they scarcely regarded it as serious. And when the women appeared in their white flannel caps pinked out with blue ribbons, in their short petticoats and white dresses, with blue neckerchiefs tied over the shoulders and crossed behind the back, they looked puzzled.

"The challenge of the Englishwomen created a stir not only in Havre, but for miles along the French coast and for many leagues inland too. And in England the greatest interest was aroused.

"When the day of the regatta came there was a vast concourse of people to witness the contest. Every quay, hilltop and house-top from which a view of the course could be had was crowded. Every one was on tiptoe of expectation. Before the start the Saltash crew had a pull round to show themselves. Their steady stroke, the way in which they bent their backs to their work and the perfect ease and grace with which they pulled made the French open their eyes.

"Ann and her crew had not the best start possible, for at first did they have the advantage. Five minutes after the start six boats were ahead of them. But they soon tested their opponents' nerve. Ann, who had the stroke oar, gave the word:

"'Row your backs to it, ma'am, and hurray for old England!'"

"One by one, with a cheer from old Ann, they passed the six boats. At last they drove their boat, with the British color flying gayly at the fore, into the lead. It was a long course and a hard pull, but they soundly thrashed the Frenchmen. Ann and her 'maidens' beat them by 100 yards. The members of this famous crew were Ann Glanville, Harriet Hosking, Jane House and Amelia Lee. A man acted as coxswain.

"Mrs. House was so elated at the victory that on reaching the committee boat she plunged into the water, dived under the vessel and came up with a dripping and drooping cap on the opposite side.

"Ann Glanville died in 1880, at the age of eighty-five, dignified, vigorous and handsome to the last. Her character was summed up by a neighbor in these words:

"'Her was honest to a farthing, clean as a sheet and kind hearted as a queen.'"

Rose to the Ocasional.

"Do you know, Miss Doodles," asks the earnest young man, "that if one were on Sirius the orbit of the earth would look just about the size of a finger ring?"

Remarkable Catarrh Cure

Gets Right into the Affected Parts and Stops Gathering in Eyes, Noes, Throat and Lungs.

By a long series of elaborate experiments at the Swift Laboratory it is definitely known that catarrh can be cured by the simple process of inoculating the blood with antitoxic remedies that stop inflammatory conditions throughout the mucous linings of all the organs of the body. This is done with the famous Swift's Suro Specific, or as it is widely known, S S S. It is taken into the blood just as naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, enables all mucous surfaces to excrete inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectively cleanse the system and thus put an end to all catarrhal pollution. S S S cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure blood making materials to enter the intestines, combats with these food elements to enter the circulation in less than an hour. You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely catarrh often infests the entire system. You will find S S S on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 per bottle. It is a remarkable remedy for any and all blood affections, such as eczema, rash, leprosy, tetter, psoriasis, boils and all scrofulous conditions. For special advice on any blood disease write in confidence to The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not delay to get a bottle of S S S at your druggists.

her ware called Damascene
a very pretty, and peculiar to

Japan. We saw some of it made. A steel block is finely grooved and then has very tiny gold wire poured into the rough places to make pretty pictures. Some of the ware is very expensive, but it is very pretty. An imitation uses copper as a foundation, so it is amusing to see the vendors prove to us the genuineness of their goods by putting acid on a copper piece to make it turn green, then showing how their goods follow the magnet. When we were in port at Kobe and Nagasaki several fellows selling the Damascene, postcards and curios, would come out awhile before we sailed (we were anchored about half a mile out and went to shore in launches) to do business on the ship. It was a circus to be out on deck and watch them. At first they ask an exorbitant price and we are horror stricken. Then they are offended (?) and asked how much we want to give. We name a price two bits less than the real value, and they in turn are dumfounded. Then we walk away as indifferent appearing as if we wouldn't have the article as a gift. That fetches them, and they knock down the price and keep doing it until it almost reaches ours. If it is a real bargain and we want it, then we buy. They succeed, however, in getting good prices until about half an hour before sailing, when they frantically try to get rid of the contents of their small boxes. At Nagasaki I had just 30 sen (15c) left which I decided to dispose of. I held it in my hand and whenever a price was asked I said, "This is all I have." Nothing doing. When one chap was about to let me have a pin, another, seeming to be a manager, rushed up and told the first one that they had nothing for 30 sen. They said they could take American money. I said, "No, I don't want any pin enough to spend American money. I spend 30 sen, no more." I got the pin in a hurry when it was time for the boat to go, and could have gotten a dozen more, if I had asked. One girl got a beautiful pair of hatpins for a dollar for which the Jap originally asked four dollars (8 yen). I do not know why they don't bring the Satsuma ware on board too. I think it is prettier.

You see I have been dodging the stores again. I think I will tell you first about a wholesale store I found. The girl laughed at me for always finding the bargains. I wanted to lay in a supply of Japanese postals, and stumbled into this shop where I got all I wanted for 1 sen (1/2c each) and everywhere else they are 2 sen. Can you imagine a little, low room, not over ten by fifteen feet, with shelves along one side and half way on the other, partly filled with boxes and wrapped packages yellow with waiting; the whole front of the room a glass and bamboo sliding door; one small counter half way across the room in the middle; two huge matting wrapped packages out on the floor in the front part; and

pervading all, a stuffy, musty, smoky smell coming from the old stock, the open charcoal stove, the incense and a pipe? Oh, if you could only picture it all, and how impossible a crowd of six buyers was at once. No room. I had noticed the sign, "Postals and Curios" crudely painted outside, but was tempted to turn back when I got my nose in. Found a very agreeable store-keeper, however, and twice afterward took other girls to share the bargains. The whole stock was a few hundred postals, a small supply of bamboo paper such as I am sending home, and a few little bamboo boxes. How do you suppose a whole family, including grandfather and grow sons like out a living so? I can't tell. How I wish I might put on paper the happy effect when our little dealer, rubbing his hands together, drew his breath in between his teeth just the opposite to a hiss, to convey to us the thought that he was doing a big business. He could talk a little English. Once when I went in with several girls he got so excited that he couldn't wait on us all. Except in the westernized store, they wait on trade so differently than that to which we are accustomed. The stores are just like descriptions of them, little toy shops whose 20x20 floors are elevated a few inches from the ground, and have a square yard cut out of one corner, in which the customer may stand. The whole front is thrown open during the day. Some little Japanese woman is usually in charge, and she kneels off in a corner, holding her hands over the charcoal for a little heat. A baby is apt to be on her back or on the floor. All adults have their sandals off. There is no American briskness about business. You step up, and if you see what you want, all right; and if you don't—a bow, no matter. Nearly all the stores are so. You pass along the street 15 or 18 feet wide, and look into section after section, selling fish, china, cloth in bolts, postals, meat, liquor, or whatnot; no variety, just one line of stock.

We went into two "department" stores, typically Japanese. They are beyond description, a regular Chinese puzzle. You go into a small room, the end of which opens into another, and that into another, etc., until after endless turnings you finally reach the end where you can get out. It is a perfect labyrinth of passageways, all of which must be passed when once entered. And the stock! Little tiny shelves that had the old-time Williams Big Store in Lima skinned complete. At every corner or turn sat (or knelt) a little woman on a shelf, warming her hands over the coals. Some of these could talk a little English, but most could not, so when we asked a price, they ran to get someone to tell us, or took out a money bag and laid the amount out for us to count. In one of the hallways there were three women, none of whom could talk English, and three of us. Some joke passed between us and we laughed. Then they laughed because we did, and passed a joke not understandable to us. Then we laughed because they did, and had a six part round of laughing, neither faction knowing why. It was fun.

Friday Morning.
Must get this letter off, for the foreign mail goes out this afternoon. It is remarkable what a fickle set of folks we all are. The steamer trip was so delightful, passengers and crew all so agreeable, and the old boat so comfortable that we soon came to feel as if our life had always been so, and we would never leave. I didn't talk to a person but who was sorry to get off. Some of us came nearer a homesick feeling then than when we left in the east. It was like pulling up the tent stakes. But after we had gotten settled up here at the Lacey's, why we wouldn't have gone back to the steamer for a farm. They could accommodate only eight here, so I was one of the fortunate. You remember Carroll Lacey was the groom last spring in that Chinese wedding. One of my Chicago Training school classmates has also been here. She went out in 1908 and is a very successful worker.

We have been waiting for a boat down to Foo Chow. Conference is in session there now. We start tonight, and no doubt I will get there in time to go down to Hingwa with Bishop Bashford's party, as he goes down for our conference. It will be a fine thing for me to meet all the conference workers at once. Both here and in Nagasaki I had letters from the workers at Hingwa, assuring me of a royal welcome. Mrs. Dilline says that the children are looking forward eagerly to my coming. Miss Wilson says they are quarrelling with the W. F. M. S. ladies because I am to live with them rather than with the Dillines. Mrs. Dilline writes that they insist on calling the guest room "Auntie Grace's" room, and are not going to let me go to the home. Now, isn't that a nice, warning reception?

I have not done much "gadding about" here in Shanghai, but have poked around a little. I don't believe I would be afraid to travel around the world alone. People are human the world over, and even if they can't understand you, or crowd around in curiosity, it doesn't mean that they are going to hurt you. Some of the girls were afraid the first day. I laughed when I found that out. To be sure, the coolies are bushy looking fellows, some with cues, some with bair-cut hair, and all with their "ragged" patched clothes, but their faces are all right. Oh, I am glad I am in China. I just feel as though I could have a feeling of oneness with these people, which I could not have with any other nationality but my own.

Shanghai, being largely a foreign city, has many beautiful, Occidental buildings, therefore, all sorts of conveyances and paved streets. The rickshas are superior to those in Japan, being rubber-tired. I have had several rides, so far. Here, as in Japan, the coolies always insist that you haven't paid enough, even when you pay the regular price. You would have laughed to see one fellow. He refused to take the five coppers a lady handed him, so she stuck them in his trousers pocket and went into the house. He took out the money and threw it "stage-ically" on the ground, then looked to see what effect he had produced. Then he picked the money up and threw it down again, muttering words I could not understand. Seeing he was not gaining, he seemed to change his mind about leaving the change, picked it up, took his ricksha and went away. I was at the window, laughing. I could not help it. And I can turn my back and walk away as unconcerned as an old-timer. I did pay my colle six coppers once when I came in, to see what he would do. In his astonishment he forgot to argue the price until I was gone, but I saw a pleased look as he turned out of the yard. There is nothing to be afraid of and one doesn't have to know the language to get around. There are plenty of ways of making one's self understood. But it is surprising how very much a pitiful vocabulary of "Pidgin English" will do. We all have had our laughs about the combinations.

One thing that strikes the foreigner as funny as the cosmopolitan police system. One may see tall Hindoos, with their turban head-dress, Japanese, Chinese and English standing on the corners as police men. The watchman here for the Methodist compound is a Hindoo. Oh, things happen so fast, I can't keep caught up in my letter.

A week from now, if all goes well, I will be in Hinkwa and glad to be settled. I cannot realize that you have just about now received the Honolulu mail, and that the mail from Yokohama will not reach you until Christmas, and this until next year. Oh, if you all could only be here and see.

Do you know what I want ever so much. A big plate of fried mush. Would give world's for it. The ship fare was fine, but I am so tired of "fussy" stuff that my whole insides are just begging for some good plain food. And a whole week yet before I can ask for what I want instead of taking what is put before me. Mrs. Lacey has too big a houseful to have other than formal meals now. Love to all.

GRACE.

GRANDMOTHER USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Mixed With Sulphur It Makes Hair Soft, Beautiful. Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But the brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting Wyeth's, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. H. F. Vorkamp.

Each ingredient is chosen for its positive healing and curative qualities. Foley Kidney Pills are the best medicine you can buy for kidney and bladder troubles. Mrs. J. M. MR. BRYAN'S PLATFORM.
Mr. Bryan has put out a strong,
well-considered and admirable platform on which he can afford to stand steadfastly throughout the Wilson administration. For Mr.
Bryan, with his earnest convictions,
and his long battle for them and
with his large following among the people, has a part that will be hardly less delicate and difficult in the next four years than that which fortune
has assigned to Mr. Wilson.

Happily he has taken his position on high ground. Avowing that he has been abundantly rewarded for all he has done and does not feel that the party or any individual in the party owes him anything, he proclaims Mr. Wilson's right and duty to select men for the cabinet
"not because of personal service rendered him, nor even because of past service rendered the party. The individual counts for little; the cause counts for much."

This pronouncement is so praiseworthy that it is difficult to praise
it. It is a promise that the old leader will try as far as it lies in his power to reduce to the minimum
the embarrassment of the new leader, that he will not set himself
up as the master or the critic of the president, or mix in petty quarrels
over the spoils, but will hold Mr.
Wilson to account only for the fulfillment of the principles which he was elected to put in practice.—
Boston Globe.

EDITORIAL
AN ADMINISTRATION OF DEEDS.

Never in the history of the commonwealth were so many big bills
of state-wide interest introduced in the first week of a session of the general assembly.

Some executives, anxious to avoid conflicts with powerful interests
that are always most active in their opposition when big measures are pending, exerted their influence toward suppressing important measures, but Governor Cox worked along different lines. The large list of important bills now pending
before the law making body of the state, represents, in a large measure, the vigorous and efficient endeavors of the new governor during the first week of his administration.

Among the more important are:
A joint resolution for the ratification of the amendment to the federal constitution providing for the direct election of United States senators was introduced and promptly
adopted by both houses.

In addition there were introduced measures providing for civil service
for state, county, city and city
school district employees, the recall

of public officers, the short ballot,
the curbing of lobbyists, the return
of verdicts by 9 instead of 12 jury-
men as authorized by a constitutional amendment and mothers' pensions.

In addition both the "wets" and
"drys," so-called, have bills pending
providing for the licensing of the liquor traffic. The ideas of the administration will be incorporated into one of these.

Plenty of evidence has been given by Governor Cox during his first week's work that his administration
will be one of deeds, not words.

SOME FOODS AND DRUGS IN 1912.

That the forces devoted to the maintenance of high standards in American food and drug products are still alert and progressive is shown by the latest annual report
of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station which has long been devoted to the dissemination of the truth in regard to these matters of public concern. The need of a continuation of a "police system"
now in operation to secure the enforcement of the law and, what is far more important, the improv-
ment of the goods offered for sale
to the public, is best shown by the statement that "of 757 samples taken by the commissioner under the law, 372 were found to be either adulterated, misbranded, or below standard." It will be interesting to watch the operation of the net
weight and measure law recently enacted in Connecticut. A statement of net weight may be quite misleading if quality is not considered, says
The Journal of the American Medical Association. The addition of water to canned vegetables, fruits
or fish will bring up the net weight
without giving much information as to the food present. The juice present in canned tomatoes varied from 47 to 71 per cent. in different brands which compete in price; and the unsuspected operation of the present mode of package distribution is shown in the fact that plain crackers dispensed in this way
bring as much as 20 cents per pound, a rather high price for the advantages of sealed contents.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS.

The newspapers of the state devoted columns of their space to telling of the inauguration of Hon. James M.
Cox, as governor, which ceremony,
in points of attendance and expressions of confidence in and welcome to the new governor, eclipsed all other similar functions.

But this remarkable popular expression of confidence in 7890$. D pression of loyalty and fidelity in Columbus last Monday does not exceed the warmth of the approval that has been given by the newspapers of the state to Governor Cox's first message. This approbation does not come from the democratic press
alone, but papers of all political faith
heartily join in assenting to the general tone of the document. Newspapermen are always among the first to place an O. K. upon officials evidencing a desire to do what is right,
notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

It would be impossible to set forth
the views of all editors about the governor's message, so this paper
will give excerpts from a few editorials so that an idea may be obtained
how the newspapermen feel about the document.

"The message bespeaks a man vigorous in mind, earnest in his purposes, ambitious to give Ohio the best administration within his large capacity to direct. It deserves very careful attention within the assembly and without." Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"As a whole, the message is not only interesting, but it is forceful and inspiring. If the legislature will cooperate with the new governor, as is expected, we may rest assured that we shall witness a progressive and highly satisfactory administration of the state's affairs." Star Journal, Sandusky.

"Despite the largeness of his program, The Journal has the fullest confidence in the ability of Governor Cox. He has a keen as well as a discriminating mind and we feel that he will give the people of Ohio

not only many new laws, but many laws for the benefit of the masses
and also administer the business of the state in a systematic, efficient and economical manner." The Journal, Hamilton.

"The message of Governor Cox to the general assembly shows a laudable determination on his part to redeem the promises made in the state platform on which he was elected
and to give the state the full benefit of a thoroughly progressive administration. The new governor starts out well in the high purpose which he proclaims, he deserves the encouragement and support of all good citizens." The Vindicator, Youngstown.

"The tone of the governor's long message is admirable. It is sane, vigilant without dodging or denying,
the difficult nature of many problems which must be solved. It is progressive but there runs through it
a reasonable and timely desire that the state shall advance prudently and on solid grounds. Instead of venturing recklessly upon unsidered experiments. Altogether the message is as notable for its conservative policies and its grasp of many weighty subjects as it is for its length. Good citizens who are conscious of their responsibilities will do well to ponder both its substance
and its form." Cleveland Leader, Progressive.

"The first message of Governor Cox does not contain anything new or startling. It recommends the fulfillment of the platform pledges
of the democratic party in the state.
It advises compliance with the strict
spirit of the mandatory amendments to the state constitution; it suggests caution in legislating under some of the permissive amendments. The general assembly can, with entire safety, carry out any of the recommendations, for the people have already given them the stamp of approval." The Beacon Journal, Akron, progressive.

"There is much in it that may be commended as along the right lines.
Much that he recommends is not in any sense political and therefore will create no division on the party lines."

The Times, Cambridge, Republican.
"Governor Cox's first message
gives promise of great improvement in state affairs. It is full of good ideas. If Governor Cox maintains his administration in harmony with the sentiments of that message, as we believe he intends to, it will adorn
the history of the state." The State Journal, Columbus, Republican.

LYRIC THEATRE.

Commencing tonight at the Lyric Theatre the Barrett Players will offer a great novelty in the theatrical line, presenting for the first time in Lima at popular prices, Edith Ellis Baker's great comedy drama, the play in which Henry E. Dixey scored such a great success, "Mary Jane's Pa." Little Louise will play the part of "Mary Jane," Miss May,
"Mary Jane's Ma," and Mr. LaRenz,
the part of "Mary Jane's Pa." Special scenery and electrical effects
will be given, the play being produced in a manner that would do credit to a high price production.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN.

When your physician can give you no remedy for the horrors that oppress you, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from
those dreadful bearing down pains,
don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy for these conditions discovered. It will save you years of misery as it has thousands of other suffering women.

COLUMBUS GROVE.

The quarantine for diphtheria
has been extended over another week, by order of the board of health and as a matter of preventative. Four other children are afflicted with a disease which has aroused the suspicions of physicians
that it might develop into diphtheria
and they are taking no chances.
Not a church bell rang out yesterday, the first time in years. Public schools will remain closed throughout the coming week, at least. Picture shows and all public gatherings have been dispensed with. As yet there has been but one death,
that of little Helen Kohli, daughter
of Lee Kohli, rural mail carrier.

Mrs. Frederick Busche, who has been very ill, suffering from an attack of influenza, is very much improved and indications point to the belief she will ultimately be restored to perfect health. Mrs.
Busche is 82 years of age.

Mrs. Russell Begg spent Saturday

with friends in Lima.
Mrs. A. W. Busche of Cleveland, was called to Columbus Grove on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Busche.
Miss Frances Carter, who is teaching in the Vaughnsville
schools, was at home to spend Sunday with her parents, Rev. and Mrs.
Daniel Carter.
Mrs. Robert Sheppard of Spanzee, New Mexico, is here with her sister, Mrs. E. Henderson, who is in very poor health.
During the time the quarantine
has been extended to cover no public gatherings, E. H. Faulkner, proprietor of the picture show, has gone to Harrod to remain with his parents.

NOTICE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

There will be a special meeting
Tuesday evening, January 21st.
All members are requested to be present.

INSPIRING TALKS INTEREST MANY.

Last Tuesday evening, the Memorial Hall was a scene of gaiety
and patriotism when Daughters of Veterans, Tent 23, held their annual installation of officers together
with the installation of the Col.
Moulton Camp, No. 52, Sons of Veterans. The comrades of Mart Armstrong Post, G. A. R., in their blue uniforms were guests of the occasion. During the evening inspiring talks were delivered by Mrs. Dr.
Derbyshire, Comrade G. E. Copeland and Comrade Franklin Light.
These very interesting talks were listened to in rapt attention. President-elect Florence Lomison, of the Daughters of Veterans presided
during this enjoyable affair, and her smiles and kind words won the good feeling of all present. The Daughters of Veterans were installed by Sister Minnie Derbyshire, Ohio Department President. The following officers were installed for the year:
President, Florence Lomison;
senior vice president, Jennie Ey-ster; junior vice president, Ollie Goodenough; chaplain, Cora Dotson;
treasurer, Lena Herrett; P. Instructor, Agnes Fisher; press correspondent, Helen Davis Andrews; team
captain, Lena Herrett; secretary, Ollie Morris; guard, Emma Cummings; assistant guard, Edna Clem;
guide, Nellie Rittenour; color bearers, Lois Davis, Caroline Vossler, Bertha Wood, Letta Kene; trustees,
Eva Davis, Florence Stratton, Estella Dobbins; pianist, Carrie Cook.
The Sons of Veterans were installed by Mr. J. Milton Abbot, of Maplewood, Ohio. Their officers are as follows: Commander, Prentiss Lawrence; senior vice commander, O. O. Fisher; junior vice commander, L. S. Parker; camp
council, A. J. Fisher, Chas. Williams, J. H. Hamilton; secretary, C.
C. Fisher; treasurer, A. J. Fisher.
The evening was voted by all, a most enjoyable one.

OUR WANT ADS DO THINGS.

A mean stuffy cold, with hoarse
wheezing breathing is just the kind that runs into bronchitis or pneumonia. Don't trifle with such serious conditions but take Foley's Kidney and Bladder Compound promptly.
Quick and beneficial results are just what you can expect from this great medicine. It soothes and heals the inflamed air passages. It stops the hoarse racking cough. M. M. Keltner.

changed cars here this morning for Columbus, en route to the capital city to again take up his duties. So great was the interest manifested in the meeting of the state board of agriculture, institute lecturers and kindred bodies last week in Columbus, that Mr. Sandles stated this morning over 1,200 people were in the office the latter part of the week alone.

Mr. Sandles is being prominently mentioned for the office of secretary of agriculture in President-elect Woodrow Wilson's cabinet. He stated this morning that he had not even written a letter in his own behalf. However, it is known that 10,000 letters, endorsements and recommendations have gone to Mr. Wilson, asking that Mr. Sandles be considered favorably for the place.

He has done more to bring agriculture up to the standard it now maintains in Ohio than any other man who was ever connected with the state board of agriculture in Ohio, since its inception. Previously, Sandles was a country school teacher, at which he worked just as hard and in which he won equally as great success.

WOULD COLONIZE WEST WITH POOR

Former Idaho State Senator on Great Project.

TO DRAW FROM TENEMENTS

Teeming Millions Living in Poverty in Great Cities to Be Given Chance on Broad Acres of Untenanted Land if Plans Go Through—Is Forming Big Society for the Undertaking.

Former State Senator James N. Stacy of Idaho, who went to New York from Portland intending to make a four day stopover which has lengthened into four years, has announced that he is putting the finishing touches to the realization of his twenty-five-year-old dream looking to the organization of the American Colonization society, which seeks to colonize 700,000,000 acres of land in the west with the poor living in the congested districts of New York, Chicago and other big cities. Not only will his great scheme help men to help themselves, he said, but as soon as free lands and the great resources of the west are under development the happy homesteaders will send to the east the fruits of their labors, thereby helping to reduce the cost of living to a minimum. It isn't going to cost a city man a cent for transportation to his future western home, the ex-senator declared, and all that is needed now to launch the society and assure its success is to get sufficient funds from philanthropists to pay the railroad fares and other incidental expenses.

Mr. Stacy has found time since he has been in New York investigating conditions on the east side and working on the framework of his society to lead the Friday night meetings at the Catherine street mission. He lives in a small room at 270 West Eleventh street just about big enough to hold a tiny bed, a bureau, a table, and the big hearted dreamer.

Describes Society.

"The American Colonization society has not yet been incorporated," he said to a reporter. "And neither have officers been elected yet, but things have gone so well that I believe the first shipment of colonists to tillable lands in Idaho, Minnesota and Oregon will be made in the next three or four months."

"I have watched your bread lines and have found there men who took their fathers' places in the line. I have seen the poverty and unhappiness of the tenements. Labor leaders with whom I have talked have told me that there are hundreds of thousands of unemployed in New York alone. The conditions in the congested sections are frightful. And in the west there are millions of acres of land, half the area of some states, waiting to be colonized!"

"It is of course impracticable for the poor of the cities to get to the west and aid in its development unassisted, and the society will undertake to give them free transportation and take care of them until they are on their feet."

"How is this to be done? The simplest thing in the world. We will first get the railroads interested in the plan. It will be like 'casting bread on the waters' to them, for their return will be great when the lands have been taken up. Communities will grow, and an ever ceaseless stream of freight, including crops, will begin its eastward course to the cities. Then we will seek the assistance of philanthropists like Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Russell Sage and Mrs. E. H. Harriman."

Will Ask J. J. Hill's Aid.
"One of the first railroad men I want to see about this is James J. Hill. He is a friend of mine. Back in 1888, when I kept a general store at Monticello, Wright county, Minn., Jim Hill and a wheat buyer named Henry Ames of Milwaukee were stopping at a hotel just opposite my store. The mosquitoes were thick, and ventilation was bad in the hotel, so they came over to my place and asked if they couldn't sleep there. I made up beds for them on the counter, and they rested well. I know that Mr. Hill will like the society's colonization idea and will help it along all he can."

The ex-senator said headquarters of the society will be established in New York, where there are so much poverty and acute suffering, and branches will be located in Chicago and Portland, Ore.

"There is no doubt that we will get all the money we need," said Mr. Stacy in his little room, "as soon as the people understand the humanitarian motives at the bottom of the project. There's a man in Brooklyn, whose name I'm not at liberty to tell, who has promised to give us $10,000 as soon as we get the society working. Nobody can possibly make a cent out of it."

Mr. Stacy claims that when he was in the Idaho state senate in 1886-9 he put through a free homestead law. The senate then stood eleven Republicans and ten Democrats, he said, and he was the Republican leader.

J. B. Cotner and wife have returned from St. Louis and Springfield, Mo., where they were visiting Mrs. Cotner's brothers, William and Bronson Buchanan. They report having a good time.

W. E. Cummings and wife have gone to Lima to keep house for H. W. Cummings while he and his wife are visiting in Illinois.

Wilbur Cotner, with his school in district No. 6, will give an entertainment and box supper next Friday night, Jan. 24. Everybody come. Clyde Mechleng and Robert Nesbit are working in Lima of nights now, and we miss their broad smile at Grange and other places.

Cecil Staskey, of Pandora, has returned home after spending her vacation with her sister, May.

G. W. McClain and family spent Wednesday of last week at J. B. Severns.

H. N. Chenoweth, who moved to Lima last spring, is counting the days when he can get back on his farm again. He rented it for a year and says he won't do it again.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of C. B. Ream last Thursday evening when a party of young people surprised Edgar Boyer and assisted him in celebrating his 18th birthday. Games and other social diversions occupied the evening. Oysters, cake, coffee and pickles were served by Mrs. Ream. The party included: Misses Faye Baker, Imogene Winegardner, Gladys Shade, Mable Graham, Laurie Hardin, Olive Ross, Ethel Shade, Mable Chapman, Gladys Hardin, Elsie Chiles, Edith Boyer, Oneta Ream, Mable Kees, and Messrs. Glen Rumbaugh, Dean Shade, Clyde Russ, Roy Richardson, Don Hardin, Charles Ferguson, Lester Lemon, Dewey Boyer, Raymond Kees, Rusler Baker, Harry Burgess, Harry Decker, Edgar Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Ream.

Persons troubled with partial paralysis are often very much benefited by massaging the affected parts thoroughly when applying Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

NEW OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR.

Rosewood Grove, No. 75, Woodmen Circle, installed the following officers for the year 1913: Past guardian, Myrtle Frazier; guardian, Eva Yohe; advisor, Carrie Switzer; clerk, Ella Kennedy; bank, Grace Disman; attendant, Bessie Dunahay; chaplain, Sarah Smith; physician, Dr. Ivy M. Lickel; managers, Myra Johnston, Maggie Snyder, Mable Ward; inner sentinel, Sarah O'Vity; outer sentinel, Mertie Hassen; musician, Grace Disman; team captain, Myrtle Frazier; Myrtle Frazier as state grand chaplain for the convention in Cleveland; Ella Kennedy, delegate; Grace Disman, alternate. After installation refreshments were served which were much enjoyed.

Cut the High Cost of Living.
W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates. M. M. Keltner.

NOTICE.

All members Lima Lodge, No. 381 I. O. O. F., are requested to be present at the meeting next Tuesday evening, January 21, at 7:30. The first degree will be conferred.

By order of Noble Grand.

Hints for Housekeepers.
Keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, and you can quickly head off a cold by its prompt use. It contains no opiates, heals and soothes the inflamed air passages, stops the cough, and may save a big doctor's bill. In the yellow package. M. M. Keltner.

GEORGE F. BARRETT RECOVERS HEALTH.

The many friends of George F. Barrett, who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with a serious attack of asthmatic bronchitis, will be delighted to learn that he has recovered sufficiently to enable him to resume his position as head salesman for the New Bremen Broom Company.

It is thought that Mr. Barrett contracted his serious throat complaint while studying the broom industry at the home office, but immediate attention on the part of Mr. Barrett's medical advisers has prevented more serious complications.

HIGH POSITION FOR LIMA BUSINESS MAN.

Mr. Epler Chosen to One of the Prominent Positions in the Order of Red Men.

Safe Investment Nets 5 Per Cent. Compounded Semi-Annually

There is no safer investment possible than first mortgage on improved real estate. True, inexperienced persons do not know how to judge values of property and might make mistakes by loaning on bad titles. By investing through the medium of the Lima Home and Savings Association, in addition to the commonly recognized advantages of real estate mortgages, you get the expert service of men who have successfully managed one of the largest financial institutions in the vicinity for the past 25 years, loaning all its funds on first mortgages. Not a dollar is loaned without personal appraisal and expert examination of the title. The property in every case must be worth one-half more than the amount loaned and protected by fire insurance in a company of approved strength. All loans are made in this vicinity, where the property and market conditions can be carefully watched by our officers.

WORKHOUSE PRISONERS

Petition Mayor Shook to Use His Influence to Better Conditions.

"CHAMBER OF HORRORS" IS JAIL

According to Petition, Which Was Signed By Stone Pile Workers.

Prisoners in the city workhouse, eight in number, presented Mayor Shook with a petition this afternoon, imploring him to use his influence in bettering the conditions at the city prison. The big iron cage where the unfortunate inmates of the city workhouse are required to spend the night was labeled as a "Chamber of Horrors" in the petition, which was quite long.

Attention of the mayor was called to the present filthy condition of the city jail, which reeks with vermin and disease-breeding germs. The petitioners complain that they are unable to get over one hour's sleep at night, and that their slumbers are continually interrupted by the maniacal yells of drunken men as they are locked up during all hours of the night.

In discussing the matter this afternoon, the mayor stated that everything said about the jail in the petition was true, but that he was powerless to alleviate the conditions of the long term men. The only solution of the problem lies in the construction of a separate prison for the workhouse prisoners according to the mayor, since the plan of putting them in the woman's ward at the city prison has proven impracticable.

SALARIES OF FIREMAN

Will Be Raised if Council Approves Item in the Ordinance.

PURCHASE OF WATER METERS

Likely To Be Disapproved By the Majority of the Members.

Consideration of the semi-annual appropriation ordinance, which was tabled after its first reading two weeks ago this evening, will be the main business of the city council at its regular bi-monthly session this evening. The ordinance failed of passage at its first reading, because the majority of the members were of the opinion that opportunity should be given each member to examine the various items of expenditure before legislating the instrument into a law.

Opposition will be voiced to a few of the items, but the ordinance, carrying with it an appropriation of $119,756.50, will be passed this evening with only a few changes in the original draft. Several of the members are opposed to the appropriation of $3,000 for the service department to be used in the purchase of water meters for rental purposes, and it may develop that the opposition will be formidable enough to encompass its defeat.

There is also opposition to the appropriation of $900 for the upkeep of the office of city plumbing inspector, created recently by the local board of health, but the probabilities are that it will go through. The office is expected to be self-sustaining, but an appropriation is necessary to insure payment of the officer's salary and his legitimate expenses.

The increase in the appropriation of the Fire Department Fund to cover the contemplated increase in the salaries of the firemen will likely be allowed, although one or two members of council are said to be opposed to it. The salary of Chief Mack will be raised from $90 to $100 per month, that of Assistant Chief Eyster from $80 to $90, and there will be an increase of $5 per month to the salary of every other member of the department.

A few of the members claim that the distribution of funds in the public service department is not equitable, and a discussion on this point is likely to be provoked at this evening's session.

The ordinance will be passed as an emergency measure, insuring the payment of salaries of city officials and employees on February 1st.

TWO TINY TOTS ARE MOTHERLESS.

Funeral Services Will Be Held Tomorrow at Ten O'clock.

Mrs. Elma Inez Dietz, the young wife of Mr. John Dietz died at their home at 367 south Jackson street at about noon yesterday, after an illness of but five days. Sunday noon the mother followed the infant into eternity.

Mrs. Elma Inez Dietz was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hyre, and was born in Anguize county on the twelfth day of September, 1889. A loving wife and a tender mother, her very early death comes as a sudden and a severe blow to all those who knew her. She died at home yesterday noon, from complications.

Besides the bereaved husband, there are two little children who are left in this wide world, motherless. One of these is but two years old, while the other is but two. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. They will be at the home on south Jackson street, but the interment will be made in the Westminster cemetery.

SAD MESSAGE CAME SUNDAY

Telegram Announced the Death of D. C. Richmond in Indiana.

HE LEFT LIMA BUT A FEW WEEKS AGO.

Pneumonia Caused a Sudden Death. Wife Was at His Bedside.

Dewitt C. Richmond, son of the late D. C. Richmond, of this city, died very suddenly in the hospital at Bridgeport, Ill. A telegram bringing the sad tidings of his death was received here yesterday by Mr. I. N. Pangle, a brother-in-law. Mr. Richmond died at eight o'clock yesterday morning after a short but very serious attack of pneumonia. He had left Lima but a few weeks ago for Bridgeport. Then he was in the very best of health.

The latter part of last week a telegram was received by the local lodge No. 54, B. P. O. E., telling of the serious illness in Bridgeport of Mr. Richmond. This was the first intimation that the relatives in

Lima had that all was not well immediately upon the receipt of the news by the local lodge, of which he was a member of long standing, and upon its communication to the family, the wife of the unfortunate man rushed at once to his bedside, and was with him at the time of his death.

Mr. Dewitt C. Richmond, Jr., was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Richmond, and was born in Lima on the 20th day of July, 1872. The elder Mr. Richmond was one of the pioneers of Lima, coming here in the early days when the Pennsylvania was laying their tracks through this part of the country. He was employed with the construction company in this work, and later was appointed agent in this city, which position he occupied for many years. The father and the mother of the late deceased passed from this life some time ago.

Mr. Dewitt C. Richmond, Jr., made Lima his home for many years. About seven years ago he went to Panama, and there entered the employ of the United States government in the disbursement department. He remained in this capacity for about two years, returning from there to New York, where he again entered the construction work. He assisted in the work of laying the famous Macado tunnel under Hudson river. After this work was completed, Mr. Richmond returned to Pittsburgh, and made that city his headquarters. From that time until the late passed holiday season he was employed as the traveling representative of a large wholesale house in Pittsburgh. Just before Christmas he resigned from the employ of this company, and the first of the present year accepted a position with his brother, Mr. A. L. Richmond, a construction contractor, of Chicago. The late deceased was sent to Bridgeport, Ill., where he was to supervise the work of laying one hundred miles of the new railroad which is being built there, to be called the Ohio Valley Railroad. Mr. A. L. Richmond had been given the contract for constructing this stretch.

The deceased came to Lima after he left the employ of the Pittsburgh company, and spent the entire holiday season with his friends and relatives in this city. It has been but three weeks since he left for his new work in Bridgeport. His wife was still in Lima.

Mr. Richmond was married while yet a resident of Lima, before leaving to take up his work in Panama. His wife was a Lima girl, then Miss Helen Mayolet. She was with him at the time of death. He has been a member of the Lima Lodge of Elks for the past fourteen years.

Just how long Mr. Richmond had been sick is not known here as yet. The trouble became serious about the middle of last week, and it was then that the Lima Elks were notified. It is thought that the illness was very short, and that death was rather sudden. Mr. A. L. Richmond, of Chicago, was notified of the trouble as soon as the Lima relatives were advised, and he started as soon as possible for his brother's side, but was too late, and death had come before his arrival.

The deceased was a member of one of the most prominent families in the city, as well as one of the oldest. He was proceeded to the grave by both of his parents, but left on earth his wife, three brothers, Mr. A. L. Richmond, of Chicago, Mr. William J. Richmond, of Lima, a conductor in the Pennsylvania, and two sisters, Mrs. I. N. Pangle, of 217 north West street, and Miss Francis Richmond, who makes her home with the Pangles.

The bereaved and the brother, Mr. A. L. Richmond, left Bridgeport this morning with the remains, and will arrive in Lima tonight at about nine thirty over the C. & D. railroad. The body will be taken to the home of the sister, Mrs. Pangle, where it will remain over night, and where the funeral will be held tomorrow. The services will be at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with the Rev. Thomas Knox, pastor of the Market Street Presbyterian church, in charge. Interment will be made in the Woodlawn cemetery.

PRISONERS ATTEMPTED TO Throw Penitentiary Guard From Fifth Tier of Ranges.

HARD WORK SAVED THE OFFICER'S LIFE.

Battle Took Place on Wooden Platform, Two Feet Wide.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—With the aid of a short cut, George William Thorpe, of the penitentiary, a former Columbus policeman, today managed to beat two colored prisoners back into their cells, after the prisoners had attempted to throw him from the fifth tier of ranges in the penitentiary cell house.

The short battle took place 40 feet above the hard stone cell floor and on a small wooden platform, two feet wide. The prisoners are said to have attacked Guard Thorpe, when the guard called them down for secretly passing forbidden fruit from one to the other. The prisoners are George Washington, serving three years from Toledo for burglary and larceny, and John Richardson, serving four years from Columbus on a like charge.

SAXBY PAID TWO FINES

City Exchequer Enriched Over $200 By Local Saloonist.

MAYOR SHOOK EXAMINED DOCKET

And Discovered Old Case That Had Not Been Disposed of.

The city exchequer was enriched to the extent of $221.46 today by the payment of fines paid into the mayor's court by George Saxby, south Main street saloonist, for liquor violations. Saxby was ordered into the mayor's court this morning to pay a fine of $100 and costs assessed against him last summer, execution of which was ordered by the court of common pleas last Saturday.

The case had been carried to the higher court on error, and was heard before Judge Adkins last Saturday, and the judgment of the lower court affirmed. Saxby appeared at the mayor's office with a roll of large dimensions, and "pecced" off the $115.86 with as little composure as though he were buying a mild cigar. Hardly had he disappeared from view until the mayor discovered that there was another case against Saxby, which he had neglected to carry to the higher court in the prescribed time.

The case was one against August Kaffitz, Saxby's bartender, who was arrested last August for Sunday selling. Kaffitz was convicted in Mayor Shook's court, and fined $100 and costs. Payment of the fine and costs was suspended pending the appeal, which was never taken. Saxby was again notified to come to the mayor's office this afternoon to settle, and was on hand at one o'clock with the total amount, $108.60.

SIDNEY ATTORNEY GIVEN POSITION.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—Logan Marshall, a Sidney attorney, today was appointed a member of the state tax commission force by that body. He will take charge of a portion of the work which was performed by A. B. Peckinpah, who gave up his position with the commission to become deputy auditor of state. The appointee is a brother of Special Counsel Charles C. Marshall of the attorney general's office.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Shakespeare club will meet Tuesday afternoon at the city library, at which time the study of a new book, "Helen of Athens," will be taken up. At the last meeting of the club, the weather was so disagreeable that the study of the book was not begun.

A goodly representation of presidents and delegates attended the annual business meeting of the city federation of clubs, held Saturday afternoon at the city library. Mrs. W. A. Campbell presided over the meeting. It was decided prudent to lay aside the vote upon the report of the nominating committee of the federation. It is expected the report will be acted upon at a meeting, to be held probably next Saturday afternoon, at the library. Mrs. J. M. Greenslade has resigned from the presidency, owing to illness. Reports from the secretary and treasurer showed the organization to be in splendid condition. The federation may send one or more members, to attend the meeting of the northwest district of the Ohio Federation of Clubs, at Van Wert, next Tuesday and Wednesday. All those who expect to attend should notify Mrs. Ray Rolan prior to Friday night. If a sufficient number of ladies attend, reduced rates may be secured by way of the Ohio Electric.

Mrs. Lillian McClure, of 121 east Circular street, will be hostess for the Herondia club, Wednesday evening.

FIRST REPORT WAS BADLY EXAGGERATED

Mrs. Sarah Robb Is Seriously Ill, but Not Victim of an Apoplectic Stroke.

The many friends of Mrs. Sarah Robb, of 209 west Elm street, will be relieved to learn that the early report of her having suffered a stroke of apoplexy on last Saturday evening was erroneous, and that the first diagnosis which pronounced it this was incorrect. Further the trouble is in no wise as serious as this, and while she is still in a precarious condition, she is very rapidly convalescing. Her daughter, Miss Mary Robb, of Chicago, and a trained nurse of prominence in the latter city, was summoned when her mother's condition seemed so serious. She arrived home yesterday, but found her mother even then much improved.

POSSESSION OF BABY BOY

Was Main Point Involved in Divorce Suit Tried Today.

MANY MATRIMONIAL CLASHES OCCURRED.

Culminating in Filing by the Husband of Divorce Suit.

A legal battle for the possession of a baby boy was waged before Judge William Klinger today through proceedings for divorce instituted by Ralph Copp against his wife Gladys Copp.

This is the culmination of a series of matrimonial clashes, two of which resulted in the arrest of the plaintiff and of the fair defendant. Copp was taken in custody not long ago on a charge of non-support and has since paid or caused to be paid $2.00 per week for the maintenance of his son.

On a night in October, 1912, Officers McCoy, Holler and Stewart raided a house on west North street and arrested Gladys Copp and Ralph Bernardo, at that time motion picture operator.

On the witness stand today the testimony of these patrolmen was damaging to the wife and mother who seeks to retain the possession of her baby boy.

PROMINENT LOCAL MAN ACCUSED OF FORGERY

C. R. FELTNER OCCUPIES CELL AT CITY PRISON.

Police Claim They Have at Last Solved Forgery Mysteries.

ACCUSED MAN IS IDENTIFIED.

By Half Dozen or More of His Alleged Victims in This City.

Arrest Follows Weeks of Fruitless Search by Detectives.

After weeks of fruitless search, the local police officers believe that they have at last solved the mystery of the identity of the smooth check forger who has swindled local merchants out of various sums of money during the past three or four months.

C. R. Feltner, of 302 Harrison avenue, an employee of the Lima Locomotive Corporation, is the man, whom police officials say, has been defrauding Lima merchants through the medium of bogus checks. The belief in his guilt has been strengthened throughout the day by the victims of the swindler, who called at the police station during the day and positively identified Feltner as the man who presented checks for payment which afterward proved to be worthless.

Feltner was arrested by Detective Joseph Reed and Patrolman Charles Billestein in the Pennsylvania yards about 8 o'clock last evening. Just as the accused man was in the act of delivering a large engine to the officials of the company from the Lima Locomotive Corporation. He was taken at once to police station, where he was held pending an investigation.

Early this morning, the several victims of the bogus check game were notified of Feltner's arrest by Sergeant Grant, and requested to come to the station to identify him. Among those who positively identified him as the man who had swindled them were Donze Miller, bartender at the Interurban Cafe, George Hooker, proprietor of a saloon on south Main street, Hooker's bartender, D. M. Anderson, Charles Ladden, a printer, and Elmer Montgomery, proprietor of the C. H. & D. restaurant. G. E. Rosenbaum, manager of the Empire Furniture Company on north Main street, was not so positive as the rest, but admitted that Feltner resembled the man who cashed a forged check at his store during December.

Posed as a Laborer.

According to the police, Feltner always garbed himself as a day laborer carrying a dinner pail when he cashed a check. Each time that a report was made to the police that a man had been victimized, the victim described the swindler as a man dressed in working clothes and carrying a dinner pail. In almost every instance, the man's face was familiar to the man who cashed the check, but none of the victims could give the police his name.

Detectives have been working on the case for three months, but success did not crown their efforts until last evening. The only tangible clue that they could hit upon was that the man had been a resident of Lima for years, and was a familiar figure on the streets. A few weeks ago, information reached them that seemed to establish the fact that he was a railroad man, but try as hard as they could, they could not ferret out his identity.

Several men in the city who knew the man by sight were enlisted by the officers in the search of him, and it was due to this fact that Feltner was arrested last evening. One of the men who knew that he was wanted by the police saw him in the Pennsylvania yards last evening, and immediately notified police station. Detective Reed and Patrolman Billestein were detailed to make the arrest, and had no trouble landing him.

Feltner stoutly maintained his innocence when brought to police station, and has repeatedly declared that he knows nothing of the existence of the forged checks. The evidence against him is very strong, however, and he will likely be bound over to the grand jury this afternoon. Edward Graf, one of his alleged victims, signed the affidavit against Feltner this morning. Conviction carries with it a long term in the state penitentiary.

Had Responsible Position.

Feltner, who is a locomotive engineer, was employed by the Lima Locomotive Corporation to deliver new engines to the purchasing companies as fast as they were completed. He was absent from home the greater part of the time, and frequently made trips to the extreme western part of the country, being away from Lima for weeks at a time. It was his absence from Lima that made his detection difficult, according to officers who have been working on the case. It seems that he would pass a forged check a day or so before departing on a long trip, and would be miles away from the city before the forgery was discovered. When he returned home, suspicion would not point to him as he had been away from the city about the time that the swindle would come to light.

Feltner is married, and has one child. He has been a resident of Lima for several years, having been an engineer on the C. H. & D. railroad before taking his present position with the Lima Locomotive Corporation. He has always borne an excellent reputation, and his arrest has caused great surprise among his friends and acquaintances.

Eight Checks.

Chief Earnst has in his possession eight forged checks, which were turned over to the police from time to time within the past three months. Other forgeries were committed during that time, but the victims preferred to suffer in silence rather than experience the publicity that would follow the complaint of one of the eight checks in the possession of the police, five appear to have been written by the same man, while a closer investigation of the other three may disclose a similarity in the handwriting to the other five. The police claim that Feltner is the author of the five checks, and their opinion is backed by the five men who cashed the checks.

One check is for $12.40, made payable to C. H. Hinds, and signed by the Warden-Allen Construction Company. It was cashed by Donze Miller, of the Interurban Cafe. Another was for $7.75, made payable to D. O. Wells, and signed by T. R. Hamilton. Hoffman Brothers, butchers, cashed this check. A third was for $28.10, made payable to J. H. Doyle, and signed by Elmer D. Webb. This check was cashed at the Empire Furniture Company, where the forger purchased a cheap stand. A fourth check, cashed at the C. H. & D. restaurant, was for $20, made payable to J. B. Boyd, and signed by Morris Brothers. The fifth check was for $20.50, made payable to D. O. Homes, and signed by R. T. Hamilton. This check was cashed at the C. H. & D. restaurant. In each instance the signature on the check was a forgery.

Chief Earnst claims that he has the names of men who know Feltner well, and who cautioned him about passing worthless checks. He added that some of them were importuned by Feltner to cash checks for him, which they believed to be worthless, and which they refused to honor.

The police are weaving a strong chain of evidence about Feltner, and are confident that they have at last landed the man who has puzzled the department for months by his operations. The search for the swindler has been a long one, and more time has been expended on the hunt for him than any case that the department has had for years.

TELEPHONE GIRL BECOMES HEROINE.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Mary Heffron, a telephone operator, weighing 90 pounds, gained a place in the list of heroines last night when she held fast to the coat of a six-foot negro who had offended her. Two city firemen, attracted by her screams came to the rescue and assisted in the capture of the culprit. "He insulted me," Mrs. Heffron said. "And as I had no knife to stab him I grabbed his coat tails and yelled."

CONCILIATORY PLAN HAS BEEN PROPOSED.

Washington, Jan. 20.—To conciliate cities protesting against the loss of the office of the collector of customs and its location with a nearby rival, the treasury department is considering a compromise in its tentative plan of customs reorganization. The suggested scheme would make both parts in such cases headquarters of a customs district, the collector dividing his time between them.

BUSHEL OF MAIL COMES TO GOVERNOR.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—Hundreds of residents of the state who claim they voted the democratic ticket and are loyal supporters of the present administration are making application to Governor James M. Cox for positions which he has at his disposal. Some specify the jobs they would like while others "will be satisfied with the best places your honor can give me."

In about a bushel of mail today more than half of the letters were applications for positions.

Governor Cox said today that he has not had time to consider any appointments. He plans to devote at least the forepart of this week to matters of legislation.

CARDINAL FARLEY SAILS FOR BAHAMAS.

New York, Jan. 20.—Cardinal Farley sails today for the Bahamas where he will make his triennial inspection of the church there. Although the islands are British territory, the Roman Catholics there have been for many years under the jurisdiction of the archbishop of New York.

Granddaughter of Former Czar of the House a Popular Debutante

Miss Virginia Le Seure, granddaughter of former Speaker Joseph Cannon of the house of representatives, made her debut in Washington recently at a tea given by her aunt, Miss Helen Cannon. Miss Le Seure is one of the most popular young ladies in Washington, and a number of functions have been arranged in her honor by members of the diplomatic corps.

EARNST IS NOW CHIEF

Former Captain of Police Assumed New Duties This Morning.

CHARLES MCCOY ACTING CAPTAIN.

Patrolman Holler Resigned From Force to Accept Better Position.

It is now Chief of Police Andrew Earnst. The former captain of police assumed charge of the department this morning. Chief Vermillion, severing his connection with the department at midnight last night. The formal transfer was made at Mayor Shook's office Saturday afternoon, but did not become effective until this morning.

Chief Earnst was sworn into office by Mayor Shook Saturday afternoon immediately after he had furnished $2000 bond for the faithful discharge of his duties. The new chief gave a surety company bond, which was approved by the mayor.

The new chief of police reiterated his oft repeated statement since the announcement of his appointment was made public that he would administer the duties of his office fairly and impartially, and that there would be no favoritism shown to any members of the department. "Every one will have a square deal," said the captain this morning, adding that he hoped to restore harmony among the men under his control.

Chief Earnst entered the police department of the city of Lima on January 1st, 1910, in the capacity of captain, having been appointed by Mayor Dyer on the first day of his term. He served as captain during the two years of Dyer's administration, and held over under the Shook regime.

When Chief Vermillion handed in his resignation to Mayor Shook on December 19th, to become effective one month later, Captain Earnst was considered by all in touch with conditions at police headquarters as his logical successor. The announcement of his appointment two weeks later occasioned no surprise, as it was known that he was in perfect harmony with the ideas of Mayor Shook, and had enjoyed his confidence and trust during the first year of his term.

The Retiring Chief.

Chief Vermillion, who has served three consecutive years as head of the police department of the city, retires from the office with the best wishes from the legion of friends, and with a record of a clean and commendable administration of the affairs of his office. While undecided as to his future plans, it is believed that he will associate in business with his father-in-law.

Acting Captain McCoy.

Mayor Shook officially appointed Patrolman Charles McCoy as temporary captain of police to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Earnst Saturday afternoon. McCoy will continue in that position until a successor to Earnst is chosen in the regular manner.

The civil service commission has announced that an examination will be held on January 25th, when applicants for the captaincy will appear before the commission. One of the qualifications for an applicant is that he must have served five consecutive years in the department. McCoy has been disqualified by the commission, as he has served but three years as an officer.

In case that three men are certified to Safety Director Blank for the captaincy, the appointment must be made from the eligible list. However, if less than three names are certified to the safety director, he can use his own pleasure about making a permanent appointment or allowing McCoy to continue as temporary captain. McCoy will draw the pay of captain while he is serving in that capacity. City Solicitor Jackson having rendered an opinion in the matter.

Holler Resigns.

Patrolman Arthur Holler, appointed to a position on the police force by Safety Director Blank about three months ago, resigned from the force last Saturday evening to accept a position as blacksmith foreman with the Union Tank Line. His new position carries with it considerable more salary than that of police patrolman, which was given as the reason for making the change by Holler.

During the time that he has been a member of the force, Holler has made a capable and efficient officer, and leaves behind a splendid record. His resignation was regretfully accepted.

As a result of Holler's resignation, there will be two vacancies on the police force to fill from the applicants at the civil service examination on January 25th. The promotion of one of the present patrolmen to captain will cause the other vacancy on the force.

W. R. Fox, 195 W. Washington St., Noblesville, Ind., says: "After suffering many months with kidney trouble, after trying other remedies and prescriptions, I purchased a box of Foley Kidney Pills which not only did me more good than any other remedy I ever used, but have positively set my kidneys right. Other members of my family have used them with similar results." Take at the first sign of "kidney trouble." M. M. Keltner.

BITTER OPPOSITION TO NEW MONUMENT.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Bitter opposition to the bill providing for the erection of a $2,000,000 monument to the memory of Abraham Lincoln is threatened when the measure is taken up in the house Wednesday. The bill already has passed the senate. It provides for the erection of a statue and Greek temple on the Mall near the Washington monument and its opponents are trying to substitute for it a plan to construct a memorial highway from Washington to Gettysburg.
